Modern conveniences just 25 years ago...

ANTIQUES TODAY!

We have taken the scrub board, the sagebroom, the wash pot, the windlass water well and the wood stove away from housewives all over Mississippi. These were modern conveniences 25 years ago - they're antiques today! We brought the bathroom indoors, lighted the home, cooled the milk, fed the chickens, dried the clothes and sat the farmer in front of a TV set. In the process we created a vast new retail market: Electrical Appliances for rural residents.

We took the heat out of summer, the cold out of winter, the darkness from the night and the backache out of cleaning, feeding, grinding, lifting and churning.

Who are we? ...

We are the member-owners of our Electric Power Association. Working together, we formed our EPA, and together, we assume the obligation for the money we borrowed to put us in business. And we sometimes look upward and give thanks that we live in a land where we have the freedom of choice to exercise our own initiative, to participate in a free enterprise system in which we may work together for our mutual benefit.

We're happy to commit the modern conveniences of yesteryear to antiquity - and we're proud of the markets Electric Power Associations have created while making rural life worth living!

OFYOUR CHOICE

John is thinking about "what he wants to be," No, he doesn't want to be a jet pilot, nor a nuclear physicist, nor a lawyer, nor an actor, nor a doctor, nor yet a hanker, baker, or chemist. John has decided. He wants to be a MINISTER.

I wondered if his father or his uncle or anyone else in the family is a minister? Strangely enough, no! He won't make a lot of money, and knowing John, he certainly won't particularly like the idea of getting up to "preach" to people. Definitely he won't have a big shiny car to make his calls. I wondered why John had decided to devote a lifetime to service in the

I asked John for a frank answer and he told me many small accumulative experiences which boiled to this: A strong Christian influence from jamüy, friends, and church kindled a spirit of awareness and devotion which seems to be latent in every human heart. Of course, we can't all be like John. Few of us have received the stimulus to devote our entire life to the Church. But some of John's spirit does dwell in all of us. Too often we are unaware that we possess this miraculous gift from God. Rekindle your spirit by going to church this Sunday. Copyright 1964, Keister Advertising Service, Inc., Strasburg, Va. Wednesday
